"Each side is being driven on to the point where an open clash might become unavoidable.

"Neither side desires war; yet, as measures and counter-measures increase, the combination of an incident and a rising belief that only force can settle the issue might produce a clash beyond control."

"We are delighted to welcome the American airmen who this weekend returned to airfields in Britain." Labor's pro-government Daily Herald announced, adding:

"No one on this side of the iron curtain wants war. But, equally, no one here is prepared to be bullied in defiance of agreements."

'FRAUGHT WITH DANGER'

The Daily Express noted that "the world slides once more, after so pitifully short an interlude, into a situation fraught with the danger of war."

"We must face the fact that war has once again become a possibility," said the Conservative Daily Graphic. "That means we must be prepared for it."

The Conservative Daily Mail asking "Do they want war?"

"Hitherto it has been assumed that Russia does not want war. But this assumption would be proved wrong if she closed our corridors to Berlin by force."

THE OBSERVER

Yesterday's edition of the Observer, widely read independent weekly, said: "There is no denying that the danger of war has deepened in the last few days; not so much through the Russian note on Berlin, unsatisfactory though it is, as through the Russian threat, made in the Soviet-controlled German press, to close part of our air corridors and to limit our aeroplanes which are now supplying Berlin."

French Premier Faces Crisis

Schuman Fighting Cut in Army Budget

PARIS—French political leaders sought a last minute compromise today to prevent the anti-Communist government of Premier Robert Schuman from being voted out of office on an economy issue.

Schuman faced his 12th vote of confidence in the National Assembly since he took office last November. Arrayed against him, in addition to the Communists, were the Socialists and Radical Socialists, both represented in his government.

Deputies of both parties demanded a 12,000,000,000-franc cut in the French armed forces budget of 300,000,000,000 francs. Schuman said he would quit if he had to take such a cut.

Mr. Mackenzie

parties of all countries have been notified that henceforth they are to take the Russian party as a model to be emulated exactly. They are warned to tighten their ranks and conform to "Marxist-Leninist organization principles."

COMINFORM ORDERS

Announcement of this startling change of policy was made several weeks ago in the newspaper published in Belgrade by the international Communist agency known as the Cominform.

The Cominform is widely regarded by objective observers to be a revival of the old Comintern, or general staff for world revolution, which Moscow announced was dissolved in 1943.

It was the Cominform which recently declared war on Yugoslavia's dictator, Marshal Tito, for getting out of step with Russia.

PUBLISHED IN U.S.

The Cominform announcement of policy has been republished by "The Sunday Worker," weekend edition of the New York Communist organ, "The Daily Worker."

The Cominform said among other things that Communist parties can't realize their "cardinal social-economic and political task" without "strengthening the political work of the parties," "consolidating them organizationally and ideologically," and "maintaining close bonds with the masses."

WORLD REVOLUTION

This development of course signals an intensification of the world revolution for the establishment of Communism.

It undoubtedly has been inspired by such deviations from the Moscow line as we have seen in Yugoslavia, which has refused to go the whole hog in surrendering all individual rights to the state.

As a matter of fact portions of the populations of all Russia's satellite countries have from time to time kicked over the traces in an effort to hang on to some portion of man's bill of rights.

PUTS SCREWS ON

So Moscow is putting the screws on. This foreshadows purging of every Communist party in the world. We have a concrete example of what this means in the news from Czechoslovakia that the famous cultural and physical training organization known as the Sokol is to be purged because of what the Communists regard as a reactionary political demonstration during the recent international meeting in Prague.

BENES CHEERED

Some members of the Sokol in a big parade cheered for former President Benes but marched past his Communist successor, Klement
