Despite unfavorable showing of Northern Alberta the average condition for the Prairie Provinces was placed at 94 per cent, against 79 per cent at this time last year.

Moisture condition for the three provinces is 60 per cent, of normal compared with 92 per cent, three weeks ago and 71 per cent, June 17, 1937.

SITUATION IN EUROPE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A report to the Agriculture Department today from its attaché at Berlin said that despite drought conditions Europe may not need a larger than normal amount of American wheat this year.

Prospects point toward a good bread-grain harvest in Europe as a whole, the report said. It added, however, that the next few weeks would be a critical period for the maturing of crops during which significant changes could take place.

Agriculture Department officials have been surveying foreign markets for possible outlets for American grain. The department has forecast a record wheat crop and a possible surplus of 450,000,000 bushels.

The Berlin report said that the European wheat yield probably would be smaller than last year, but that the crop probably would be considerably larger. The two grains are largely interchangeable in the European diet.

Drought conditions, the report stated, have adversely affected the wheat crop in Italy, Spain, Greece and the Scandinavian countries.

To Celebrate 118th Birthday

Anglican Congregation to Gather at Site of "Old Church"

COLCHESTER, June 18.—The First Anglican Church here will celebrate its 118th anniversary Sunday. The ceremony will include a gathering at the "Old Church" on the site of the cemetery on Lake Erie bank.

Best third view of the historic church give the date of its origin as 1818. Rev. J. H. Smith corrects this, claiming historical records show it was erected in 1820 and blames the inscriptions on an inscription carved into one wall of the building within recent years.

From 1866, the community was served spiritually by rectors from Sandwich and Amherburg. First resident rector came in 1862. He was Rev. Francis Elliott, who served till 1863.

Mr. Martin. "Quite."

Mr. Poole. "Then why should we not assume the power in this case when it is for the protection of labor?"

SEES NO PARALLEL

Mr. Martin. "The cases, if the honorable gentleman will permit me, are not at all analogous. What I said with regard to unemployment insurance was based on the assumption that we have the right of amending the constitution without going through all the stages that the honorable gentleman contemplates. But with respect to the matter before us, property and civil rights under which certainly the doctrine of contract must come, are specially given by the British North America Act to the province. That is the difficulty."

"It is unfortunate that our dual jurisdiction should in respect of great national problems such as this always be in the way. I have said in this House that unemployment is a national problem, and I think this problem should properly be dealt with as a national one, but unfortunately I was not born in 1867 and had nothing to do with the framing of the British North America Act."

The bill was "talked out" to the close of the private bill hour.

Will Observe 60th Birthday

Special Services to Mark Diamond Jubilee of Morpeth Church

MORPETH, June 18.—St. John's Anglican Church will observe its diamond jubilee tomorrow with special services, when the guest speaker for the evening service will be the Venerable Archdeacon W. J. Doherty, of London, secretary and treasurer of the diocese of Huron.

The morning service will be in charge of the rector, assisted by the oldest former rector of the parish, Rev. T. P. Whealen, of Ilderton, who served the parish from 1868 to 1891.

For 20 years prior to completion of the church in 1878, members of the Anglican faith met in the Morpeth Town Hall. At the Easter vestry meeting in 1876 they decided to erect a church.

The corner stone was laid under the auspices of a Chatham Masonic lodge in June, 1877, and the silver trowel used on that occasion was recently presented to the parish at a special Masonic service and is kept in the church as a prized possession.

Anglo-Rumanian Negotiations Seen

LONDON, Eng., June 18.—The arrival in London of both former Premier George Tătăreanu, of Roumania, and Sir Reginald Hoare, British minister to Bucharest, aroused speculation today over possible important British-Rumanian economic and political negotiations.

Tătăreanu, who is an adviser of King Carol on his Crown council, will see Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and other officials during his visit.

Suggestions have been made both in and out of Parliament recently that Britain grants credits to Roumania and her Danubian neighbors to greivest them coming under German economic domination.
